EU DIPLOMA

After being an exchange student in this faculty some years ago, I came back as a full-time student for this master's degree programme. This programme opened me the doors to countless opportunities, such as finding a job, visiting and networking in financial institutions, getting in to the conferences with researchers, regulators and even political figures. It also brings great opportunities to actively participate in the academic world and publish research. Overall, the study experience is rich and full, the campus is modern with access to Bloomberg terminal and located very comfortably close to dormitories, the sport center and the ISIC, the most modern and well-equipped library in the city. Finally, as an international student I have received support and guidance on adapting to this country, I have felt more than welcomed by both Lithuanian and the international student community.
